

Simulation Portion of Midterm 2: EC EN 483

Fall Semester 2018

This is a take home exam with a two-hour time limit. For each minute that you go beyond the two-hour time limit you will lose 1% point. The exam time starts as soon as you it is downloaded from learning suite.

You may choose any continuous two-hour time block starting at 6AM on Wednesday (11/14) and ending no later than 11:59pm on Friday (11/16). DO NOT discuss the exam until after the final deadline on Friday.

For this exam you may use your notes, our text books, any material posted on our class learning suite website, a Laplace and z-transform table, and Matlab or Python. The materials you use must be your own, i.e., you cannot borrow another classmates notes or simulation code. You may not use the internet.

Staple the written portion of this simulation exam with the written portion of the midterm and submit them together to the 483 homework drop box next to the ELEN shop. Upload all your simulation code to learning suite.
